Re: Cause No. D-1-GN-16-004769, Escamilla v. Paxton, in the 261st Judicial District Court of Travis County, Texas

Dear Counsel:

I have considered the pleadings, the motion and any responses or replies, post-hearing briefs, evidence, and the arguments of counsel and hereby make the following ruling:

The Court grants-in-part and denies-in-part Intervenor Tara Coronado's Special Exceptions & Motion to Strike. Plaintiff is limited to pleading only the issues raised in its July 15, 2016, letter, including withholding disclosure of the deferred prosecution agreement pursuant to Section 552.108(a)(1) and that the deferred prosecution agreement is subject to a previous determination.

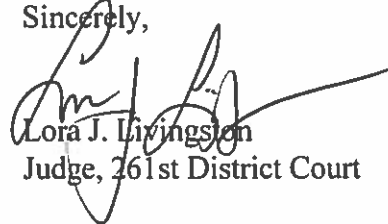

By no later than July 3, 2017, Plaintiff shall replead in accordance with this ruling.

Escamilla v. Paxton
D-1-GN-16-4769

Now that you have my ruling, please prepare an order, circulate it for approval as to form, and submit it for signature at your earliest convenience. If you have any questions, please contact my Staff Attorney, Brent McCabe.

Sincerely,

Lora J. Livingston
Judge, 261st District Court
