

Williamson County Commissioners:

I am writing you to state a claim and demand that you or the entity which you represent, the political subdivision of Williamson County, cease and desist from your failure to supervise the Judges, ad litems, amicus attorneys, court appointed counselors and parenting facilitators, other court appointed professionals and court employees in the Williamson County District Court, and pay damages to my family, as we were harmed by your failure to supervise.

On December 1st, 2015, members of the Texas Association for Children and Families delivered to your attention, evidence of the racketeering enterprise operating within Williamson County, both in person and by email. They also appeared before you on January 5th, 2016 and explained that the County's policies were still allowing this enterprise to flourish, damaging countless families for at least a decade. In addition, they offered to hand over any and all evidence you might request to support my claims.

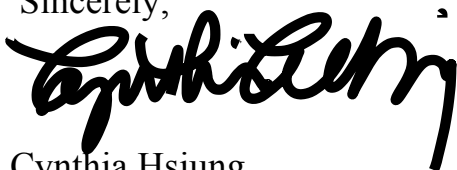

They also had someone contact your office about forming a Domestic Relations Office (DRO) as Travis County and other Texas counties have done in response to similar claims to protect the citizens of their county. You took no action in response to our request other than to publicly discourage families like my own from coming to you for help. You also sent a letter to the organization reiterating your refusal to cooperate.

I am sending this letter to further my goal of being instrumental in the creation of new policies to protect other families from being extorted, as my own family was, by the members of the racketeering enterprise: Sara Naylor, Kelley Baker, Rhonda Hohmann, Sankalpa, LLC, and Rachel Saenger in Williamson County. I therefore demand that you act immediately to cease and desist your failure to supervise these individuals and the individuals responsible for their supervision as you are responsible for doing, and that you compensate me and my family for the damages we sustained as a result of your incompetent and harmful policies.

I welcome your reply to texaschildrenandfamilies@gmail.com. If you fail to respond by June 1st, 2016, I hope you will understand that I will have no option other than filing a lawsuit to address the preceding issues.

April 15th, 1016

Sincerely,
